The objectives of the YOUTH learning activity

- To develop and enhance future thinking skills among young participants through interactive workshops and activities.
- To introduce and test pilot versions of the Playbook and Future Thinking game, gathering feedback for improvements.
- To create a core group of young futurists who will become ambassadors for future thinking in their respective countries.
- To develop action plans for implementing "Peer to Peer" activities in participants' home countries, promoting future thinking among local youth.
- To establish a transnational network of young futurists who can continue collaborating beyond the project's duration.
- To empower youth to become active change-makers by applying future thinking concepts in their local communities.
